1970s Murano Glass Table Lamp

Unknown designer, table lamp, Murano glass, Italy, 1970s

This elegant Murano-style table lamp is crafted in softly frosted opaline glass, featuring a satinato (acid-etched) finish that gives the surface its velvety, matte appearance. The gently sculpted Mushroom like silhouette, with its rounded base and flared shade, creates a balanced, harmonious form that feels both playful and refined.

When illuminated, the etched glass diffuses the light evenly, producing a warm and intimate glow without glare. The subtle texture enhances the softness of the illumination, making the lamp as atmospheric as it is sculptural.

Timeless and versatile, this piece works beautifully on a bedside table, console, or shelf, adding understated elegance and a warm modernist touch to any interior.
