'Djursholm' Teak Armchair

Ib Kofod-Larsen for Olof Perssons Fåtöljindustri, 'djursholm' teak armchair, Sweden, 1960s

This armchair from the 1960s is a true gem. It is designed to focus on simplicity and functionality and boasts clean lines and a minimalist aesthetic. Crafted from high-quality materials, such as teak and fabric (mainly a blend of wool and cotton), it exudes a timeless elegance that fits seamlessly into any modern home. The fabric has been woven at a slower rate and uses thicker wool yarns that have this volume and a deceptively unstructured appearance. Whether you want to create a cozy reading corner or add a Scandinavian style to your decor, this armchair will impress.
