Large Sculptural Italian Murano Glass Table Lamp

Unknown designer, large sculptural italian murano glass table lamp, Italy, 1970s

Large Murano glass table lamp, hand-blown in white/transparent opaline glass with softly sculpted, concentric forms. The raised central diffuser creates an even, ambient light, while the polished metal base adds a subtle modern contrast.

The design clearly echoes the refined modernism associated with Carlo Nason–style lighting: bold yet restrained, organic yet precise. The glass appears almost liquid, its milky translucence subtly shifting with the light, while the polished metal base provides a crisp, reflective counterpoint.

Elegant without excess, this lamp functions as both illumination and object, equally at home in a minimalist interior or a curated, design-led space. A timeless Murano piece that celebrates craftsmanship, balance, and the enduring beauty of Italian modern design.
