Rare Model V312 Copper Sconces, Set of 2

Hans Agne Jakobsson for AB Markaryd, pair of wall sconces model 'V312', metal, copper, Sweden, 1960s

The details are not the details. They make the design," Charles Eames said, and this pair of wall sconces proves it. Four bands of brushed copper step outward, each a little wider than the one above, and that is the whole design. Model V312 was designed by Hans-Agne Jakobsson and made by AB Markaryd in Sweden in the 1960s, in copper with a soft rosy sheen. Switched on, each sconce sends a fan of light up the wall and another down, while a thin line of glow slips out between the tiers: a detail that makes the design.
